HSIU-CHI PAI

ORCID: 0009-0006-6988-7828 | E-mail: hsiuchipai@gmail.com | Tel: (886)966588595

Prospective Ph.D. Applicant in Political Science

RESEARCH PROFILE

My doctoral research lies at the intersection of comparative politics and democratic resilience, focusing on youth political behavior in democracies exposed to sustained external authoritarian pressure. Methodologically, I combine quantitative analysis with Q-methodology to examine political attitudes and governance in comparative institutional contexts.

EDUCATION

M.A. in Public Policy 2022 – 2025

National Taiwan University (NTU), Taipei, Taiwan

- Admitted as the top-ranked student to the Institute of National Development.
- Master's thesis examined resilience in water governance using Q-methodology to analyze policy advocacy narratives in Taiwan.

B.A. in Political Science 2018 – 2022

National Chengchi University (NCCU), Taipei, Taiwan

- Awarded the National Science and Technology Council (NSTC) College Student Research Scholarship.
- Completed formal quantitative training in political science and electoral analysis.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCES

Research Assistant 2023 – 2025

Taiwan Social Resilience (Research Center), NTU, Taipei, Taiwan

- Assisted in developing "Resilience Indicators" research projects.
- Conducted conceptual operationalization, indicator selection, and evaluation framework design.
- Developed subjective and policy-oriented frameworks for resilience research.

Research Assistant 2023 – 2024

Graduate Institute of National Development, NTU, Taipei, Taiwan

- Co-developed environmental resilience indicators with Prof. Chien-Shih Huang.
- Presented research proposal at the COPPR24 conference.

Face-to-Face Interviewer 2020 – 2021

Election Study Center, NCCU, Taipei, Taiwan

- Assisted in the "Taiwan's Election and Democratization Study (TEDS2021)" research project.
- Completed field data collection in Wenshan District, Taipei City.

PUBLICATIONS

Pai, Hsiu-Chi. (2025). "Resilience in Water Governance: Using Q-methodology to Understand Policy Advocacy Groups' Narratives in Taiwan." Master's thesis, Graduate Institute of National Development, National Taiwan University.

CONFERENCES PRESENTATIONS

Conference on Policy Process Research 2024 (COPPR24) 2024

Syracuse University, New York, USA

- Presented research proposal: "Resilience in Water Governance: Using Q-methodology to Understand Policy Advocacy Groups' Narratives in Taiwan" (Panel 29: Dissecting Collaboration and Governing Systems)

IPSA Regional Conference 2026

University of Wrocław, Wrocław, Poland

- Paper: "Democratic Resilience under Sustained External Authoritarian Pressure: Youth Perceptions in Taiwan and South Korea" (ID: 184, Track 3) (Accepted)

SCHOLARSHIPS

Government Scholarships for Overseas Study (GSOS) 2026

Ministry of Education, Taiwan.

- Full funding for pursuing a Ph.D. in Political Science (Pending)

International Conference Travel Grants 2024

National Science and Technology Council (NSTC) & National Taiwan University

- Full funding to present research proposal at COPPR24.
  1. NSTC Graduate Student Travel Grant as Principal Investigator (No. NSTC-113-2922-I-002-200) – NTD 50,000
  2. NTU College of Social Sciences[1] – NTD 21,000
  3. NTU Graduate Institute of National Development – NTD 6,000

Master's Thesis Research Grants 2023–2024

Taiwan Social Resilience Research Center & NTU College of Social Sciences

- For Q-methodology fieldwork, conference presentation, and master's thesis writing – NTD 108,000

Methodological Expertise

Quantitative Methods: R, SPSS, Excel

Qualitative Interview Methods

Q-methodology: PQMethod, Ken-Q

Spatial Analysis: QGIS, Excel2Earth

LANGUAGES

Mandarin (Native)

Taiwanese (Native)

English (C1 – Advanced academic proficiency)

French (A2 - Doctoral research target)

[1] Under the name of 白 O 齊.